Students/Parents:

Barbers Hill High School invites you to participate in a Princeton Review SAT test-prep course beginning on September 18, 2010. The goal of the program is to provide students with a realistic assessment of their potential performance on the SAT, and present proven strategies to increase future scores. Princeton Review will provide certified instructors to teach SAT preparation for 11th and 12th grade students. The course will include:

- 9 weeks of 2-hour lessons
- Three practice tests, each four hours in length
- Beat the SAT student course manual, 11 practice tests for the new SAT, three full-length SAT practice exams, and a personalized Online Student Center.
- After each test, students receive a personalized, computer-generated score report detailing their performance and pinpointing individual strengths and weaknesses.
- Access to a personalized Online Student Center to review lessons; work on practice problems and drill, and make-up missed classes.

The schedule for the Princeton Review course is as follows:

Course	Day	Date	Time	Location

 We recommend students register in advance to take the December 4th SAT test for optimum results

The original cost of this course is $500 per student, though students will be required to pay only half of the required tuition, as the district will scholarship each student $250. Please make checks payable in the amount of $250 to Barbers Hill High School, and sign the required forms in the Counseling Center. Please be aware that we only have 18 spots available; therefore participation is on a first-come, first-serve basis.
